

ON-CALL 1-314-732-1454

Rule 1: Computers and networks break.

Rule 2: No one in your company can change Rule 1.

When a machine goes down, the user who sits in front of it is paralyzed. If the user's job deals with financial or mission-critical data, you can estimate the cost of downtime by the minute. If this person handles customer calls, you can add the cost of lost business. Possibly, the user supplies other employees with information they need to do their jobs. Add that up as well. 80% of the time a simple phone call to a subject matter expert can solve the problem and save hundreds if not thousands of dollars in lost time.
